

Climate Disruption is a Moral Issue

Interfaith Climate Advocacy Training

When: December 4, 2016
1:00pm to 7:30pm

*A day of preparation for people of all faiths
Learn how to speak with moral authority on the issue of climate change in Pennsylvania*

Join us to develop clear messages to bring directly to policymakers to support ambitious, legally-binding targets for carbon dioxide and methane emissions, energy efficiency and a just transition to renewable power.

Workshop Leaders from PA Interfaith Power and Light, PennFuture and Justin Wright, Mediation and Negotiation trainer, Active Neutrals

Where: The Community Center at Pennswood Village, Newtown, PA.

Register at <http://paipl.us/event/climate-advocacy-training-newtown/>
DINNER and SNACKS are provided.

Please bring a mug or water bottle for your drinks.

DISCOUNTS for people signing up as a small group from the same faith community, ministerium or activist organization

People of faith possess the moral authority to be important and credible parties to the awakening of awareness and responsibility for climate change among elected leaders and non-elected policy makers.

We seek to prepare people who are willing to pro-actively initiate meetings with policy makers to lift up the moral dimensions of this crisis and support effective and rapid transition plans for a just clean energy future in Pennsylvania and the nation.

Sponsored by PA Interfaith Power and Light and the Eco-Justice Collaborative of Philadelphia Yearly Meeting.
Contact info@paipl.org or 814-876-2597

